Application of Mathematics in Computer Science and Real Life	240	25-03-2021

At the beginning of seminar Mr. Sunit Kashiv has given the Introduction of Govt. College Timarni after this Program Convener Dr. Neeraj Malviya has given Introduction of The Chief Guest Dr. Anil Rajput (Chairman of Board of Studies of Mathematics, Barkatullah University), Special Guest Dr. Anil Goyal (Dean of Academic, Department of Mathematics RGPV, UIT), first speaker Dr. Amrish Handa ( Assistant Professor of Mathematics Govt. P.G. Arts & Science College Ratlam (M.P.) , second speaker Dr. Santosh Kumar ( Associate Professor of Mathematics, College of Natural and Applied Sciences, University of Dar es Salaam, Tanzania.) . After the introduction of Guests. Principal Dr. Vineeta Raghuvanshi has welcomed all Guests. The Chief Guest Dr. Anil Rajput explained the importance of Mathematics in Computer science and in real life, He said that Google search engine works by using page rank algorithm and automatic car also using Mathematical concept. The special guest Dr. Anil Goyal explained the use of Numerical analysis in Computer Science

The first eminent speaker Dr. Amrish Handa (Assistant Professor of Mathematics Govt. P.G.Arts & Science College Ratlam (M.P.) said “Basic arithmetical operation i.e. addition, subtraction, multiplication, division are used in our day to day life. Mostly commercial activities like purchasing & selling of goods, calculating interests or discounts, calculating salaries or payments etc. we deal in our daily life”

The second eminent speaker Dr. Santosh Kumar (Associate Professor of Mathematics, College of Natural and Applied Sciences, University of Dar es Salaam, Tanzania.) said “Most students would like to know why they have to study various mathematical concepts. Teachers usually cannot think of a real-life application for most topics or the examples that they have are beyond the level of most students.

When teachers try to convince their students, that mathematics is useful in many professions, such as engineering and medical sciences, many of their students may not be interested in these occupations. The areas in physics like kinematics, mechanics, quantum mechanics, etc. are also a branch of mathematics, not to mention that:

“Mathematics is the queen of all sciences (Reimer & Reimer, 1992, p. 83) A famous quotation by the great Mathematician Carl Gauss (1777-1855).

Dr. Santosh has explained important applications of Mathematics in real life. As follows Applications of Mathematical Knowledge in the Workplace:

What are in the secondary syllabus and textbooks are mostly arithmetical applications such as profit and loss, discount, commission, interest rates, hire purchase, money exchange and taxation. But what about workplace uses of algebra, geometry, trigonometry and calculus? Usually, many of these applications are beyond the level of most students. Thus, I will illustrate some suitable real-life applications which teachers can discuss with their students

Use of Similar Triangles in Radiation Oncology

Geometry plays a very important role in radiation oncology (the study and treatment of tumours) when determining safe level of radiation to be administered to spinal cords of cancer patients (WGBH Educational Foundation, 2002).

Encoding of Computer Data using Large Prime Numbers/ Application of Number Theory and Cryptography

Before computer data are sent through the Internet, especially sensitive data like online banking, they are encoded so that hackers cannot make use of the data unless they know how to decode. Ronald Rivest, Adi Shamir and Leonard Adleman have invented the very secure RSA cryptosystem which makes use of very large primes and a complicated number theory. To break the code, hackers need to decompose a very large composite number into its two very big prime factors using trial division. Even with the fastest computers, this will take years because trial division for very large numbers is an extremely tedious process. The first thing to discuss is how big these primes are? Teachers can introduce to their students the search for very large Mersenne primes. Mersenne (1588-1648) used the formula  $M_p = 2^p - 1$ , where p is prime, to generate big primes, but  $M_p$  is only prime for certain values of p, e.g.,  $M_2, M_3, M_5$  and  $M_7$  are primes but  $M_{11}$  is not a prime. The largest known prime,  $M_{43,112,609}$ , found by Edson Smith on 23 Aug 2008, contains 12 978 189 digits!

Dr. Kumar explained applications Differential and Computational Geometry, Number Theory, Information theory, Representation Theory, Classical Analysis, Dynamical systems, Spectral theory, Operator Algebras Spectral theory, Operator Algebras Logics Optimization and Control, Operations Research and Optimization, Combinatorics etc. in detail and also summarized all applications in last part of presentation
